The victim began questioning things because “Mike” wanted him to send a screenshot of the payment to confirm he sent it. The victim began asking questions, and then “Mike” stopped all communications.

Victim said that on April 12th, 2024 at approximately 1728hrs she was contacted by phone number 888-842-6328 with the caller ID "Navy FCU" notifying her that there were multiple fraudulent transactions on her account. The caller was impersonating a Navy Federal Credit Union Fraud Investigator and told the victim that they were going to fix the fraudulent transactions and told her what she needed to do. The victim was instructed by the scammer to make a single $5000 transaction and a $4000 deposit to a “Tyshanna A. Alexander”. The victim later received an email from Navy FCU saying that she was approved for a $9000 loan and that she is to pay $298.34 on the 23rd of every month. The victim realized this had been a scam and contacted Navy Federal only to discover that “Tyshanna Alexander” had been added as a 3rd Party to her account.

Victim received a phone call from a male claiming to be from PayPal fraud support. The individual claimed that her account was compromised and was showing a pending and approved transaction for an amount of $499 on her account. The victim was given instructions over the phone to provide PID information, which was ultimately used by the scammer to gain access to her digital financial accounts. The caller signed into the victim’s PayPal account, and through that, accessed her Wells Fargo Bank accounts.

Victim received phone calls on April 3rd, 4th, and 5th claiming she paid too much for a Geek Squad account. The victim told the caller she didn’t have a Geek Squad account and they convinced her to create an account and provided them all of her information. In the three days of calls, the scammer convinced the victim to purchase gift cards that totaled $21,200.00 and provided the scammers with the numbers on the back of the cards.
